Greetings from the Chair

Greetings and Welcome to Sasquan!

All the staff and I are happy that you have made the trek to beautiful Spokane. We are working on making this an experience that you will remember for years.

Inside this book is most everything that you need to know about Sasquan. There are policies so that you know what is expected. There are lists of where everything in the Convention Center and Hotels are located. By everything I mean items such as:

- Where are the Exhibits and specific exhibits?
- Where is the Art Show, Dealers Room, Programming Rooms, and the Office?
- Where and when are certain Events?
- What are the hours of operation for all of these places?

So please take a few minutes to look through this book. Then go out and have a wonderful exciting and informative time.

Sally Woehrle,
Sasquan Chair

First Step For Attending Sasquan—Registration

Go to Hall D/Riverside Lobby of the Convention Center and pick up your badge (if you’re pre-registered) or buy a membership (if you’re not). Bring a photo ID—it’ll make picking up your badge faster.

Hours:

- Tuesday 3:00pm–8:00pm (pre-registered only)
- Wednesday 9:00am–7:00pm
- Thursday: 9:00am–7:00pm
- Friday: 9:00am–7:00pm
- Saturday 9:00am–7:00pm
- Sunday 9:00am–1:00pm

Badges

Love ‘em, wear ‘em, keep ‘em as a memory of this great event.

...annnd they have a purpose beyond collectability. You’ll need your badge to get into all events of the convention, including the Art Show, Dealers’ Room, Masquerade, panels....well, you get the picture. Wear it securely and visibly (i.e. not covered up by costuming) at all times while at the convention, which will have badge-checkers at the entrance to many functions at the con. Note that if you lose it, you’ll have to buy a new one; if your original badge is found or turned in, you’ll receive a refund. Your badge says to everyone attending—“I support Worldcon!” Without all the attendees and supporters, plus the many volunteers and staff, Worldcon would not exist. It also lets the larger community of Spokane know that you are part of one of the largest, if not the largest convention, ever put on in this city.

Lost Badges

Check at Registration, CC Hall D, see if your badge has been turned in. If it hasn’t, you will need to buy a new one. Your cost will be refunded if you find your original badge or if it gets turned in.
Lost and Found
During the day (between 9am and 6pm), bring lost items to or ask about missing items at the Convention Office in CC 102.

At night (between 6pm and 9am), bring lost items to or ask about missing items at Convention Operations in Parkside 1, 3rd floor, DBT.

Convention Overview
To help Sasquan run smoothly:

- Wear your Sasquan badge at all times in the convention venues at the Spokane Convention Center and other Sasquan events held at the DoubleTree and the historic Davenport Hotel.
- Read and obey signs. In most cases a “Reserved” sign means a chair or table may not be for you (but if you keep looking, you’ll probably find one).
- Set your phone or other potentially noisy devices to “silent” during all program items and events.
- During events and program items, do not block the aisles or the doors. If you arrive late to an item, enter quietly and sit near the back.
- While our Convention Center has free WiFi, avoid live webcasting, streaming or uploading video from the Convention Center.
- When attending a program item, save your questions and comments when most moderators will invite Q&A.
- When a program item ends, do not rush the head table to ask for autographs or engage the panelists in private conversation. In order for items to start on time, the previous item must end on time so let the panelists leave the room. You might have a better opportunity for such conversations during a Stroll with the Stars, Artist/Author Alley, Kaffee Klatches or Literary Beers, or at one of the many parties that will occur over the course of the convention.
- Be polite about recording items, and pay attention to “No Photography” or “No Recording” signs. Non-disruptive photography is generally fine unless someone objects (and selfies often constitute disruptive photography). When in doubt, Ask First! This is especially true if you wish to take photographs of any Native American participants who are dressed in regalia for a panel or presentation.
- A few items may be explicitly marked “Recording/photography not permitted.” Extra staff will be patrolling those items and if you are seen to be recording/photographing at these items, you will be escorted out of the room and your recording device might be confiscated.

Code of Conduct
Sasquan strives to provide a safe, hospitable, harassment-free convention experience for everyone, regardless of gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, physical or mental ability or disability, physical appearance, coloration, physical attributes, age, body size, body shape, race, ethnicity, citizenship status, employment, socioeconomic status, familial status, military or veteran status, achievements, national origin, ancestry, worldview, political party preference, political belief, political affiliation, creed, or religion (or lack thereof). The purpose of this policy is to deter harassment and harmful conduct and lay out the consequences of such actions.

We expect all attendees, participants, guests, members, volunteers, and staff to act responsibly, courteously and considerately, and to follow this code of conduct during the convention, convention-related events, and convention staff meetings. We further expect all staff to follow this code during all staff interactions, virtual or in-person.

Reasonable and objective examination of beliefs, including critical commentary on another person’s views, does not by itself constitute harassment. One of the underlying rationales of this policy is to promote—not inhibit—discussion and free exchanges of ideas between persons of differing views. Furthermore, the responsibility for settling interpersonal disputes lies solely with the individuals involved. Harassment, however, is something that is the responsibility of everyone, including Sasquan, to address, and it will not be tolerated.

Reporting

To report an incident of harassment, or to ask questions about policy or specific, contact the Operations division.

During the convention, you may report an incident by

- sending email to operations@sasquan.org
- bringing information to the Operations office at the convention
- telephoning the Operations division; number available at the con.
- reporting the issue to any member of the Sasquan staff, who are instructed to immediately refer such issues to Operations.

Anyone witnessing what they believe to be a violation of this policy is encouraged to report it to Convention Operations who will follow up on reports at their discretion.

The Operations division is tasked with responding and taking action regarding incidents of harassment and other issues that might interfere with the convention or the safety of attendees. After an issue has been reported, Operations will communicate updates and actions taken to parties involved in the issue, as outlined in more detail below.

Please note that we only commit to responding to issues which are reported directly to the convention. Complaints reported to various blogs, mailing lists, or other third-party channels may not be seen or acknowledged. Also note that Sasquan’s Marketing division, including social media, will not discuss specific issues that may involve confidential or personal information; they will simply refer any issues they become aware of on to Operations.

Photography

No touching or photographing other people without their consent to the extent possible by your surroundings. We do not expect photographers to chase down people who may wander into their shot of another person or who are standing in the background. However, we do expect photographers to ask permission before photographing that really neat person in a costume. Being in costume does not imply consent for photographing.

Behavior

Sasquan members and convention staff have the right to be free from unwanted harassment at the convention and while performing convention-related duties throughout the year. Harassment is behavior which focuses unwelcome attention on a person and either inappropriately crosses reasonable expectations of social boundaries, or continues after a clear showing of disinterest or a request to desist.

The following list of behaviors and rules is intended to be a guide and is not an exhaustive list of all possible forms of harassment.

No touching other people without consent. This includes glomping, hugging, kissing, fondling, and hands on knees, backs, shoulders, and hair—ask first! The fact that someone is in costume does not imply consent for touching—ask first! Do not assume that physical contact will be welcome or appreciated. Some folks do not like to be touched and will respect and like you more if you respect their personal space. You are encouraged to ask for unequivocal consent for all activities.

Other behaviors that constitutes harassment include:

- following someone without a legitimate reason
- making threats of any type against a person
- deliberate intimidation of another person
- unwelcome sexual remarks, jokes, or taunting
- repeated requests for dates or sexual favors, or
- leering, staring, or suggestive gestures.
Harassment might also involve assault. Assault is a very serious crime, and any report of such will be immediately reported to law enforcement.

Convention Procedures

Persons asked to stop any harmful conduct or harassing behavior are expected to comply immediately. The exact remedy for harmful conduct or harassing conduct will depend on an evaluation of all relevant circumstances, such as the severity of the conduct and prior violations by the person engaging in prohibited conduct. Anyone violating this policy may be expelled from the meeting, event, or convention without a refund at the discretion of the convention organizers.

If you are being harassed, notice that someone else is being harassed or engaging in harmful conduct, or have any other concerns, please contact a member of convention staff or convention security immediately. Convention staff can be identified by special badges.

Convention staff or security will be happy to help participants contact hotel/venue security or local law enforcement, provide escorts, or otherwise assist those experiencing harassment to feel safe for the duration of the convention. Any staff member wearing a convention badge may receive a report of harassment, and it is each staff member's responsibility to treat a person making such a report with respect. Convention staff are also required to report all incidents brought to their attention. These incidents should be reported to convention security as soon as possible but no later than 4 hours after reported.

Upon receipt of a harassment report, convention security will develop a full report of the incident. This development will include interviews with all participants and any witnesses. This report shall be completed as soon as possible after the report is made but no later than 24 hours after the report is made.

Upon completion of their report, convention security shall forward their report to the Chair of the Convention who shall, upon evaluating the totality of the circumstances, decide upon the appropriate disciplinary action. As noted above, disciplinary action may include a verbal warning or even expulsion from the event.

Marijuana

Marijuana is legal in the State of Washington; however, it is still prohibited by federal law. Public consumption of marijuana products is still illegal under the new Washington State law. Therefore, marijuana use is not permitted in any convention space including open parties and parties on the party floor. For more information regarding the new regulations and law, please refer to the Washington State Liquor Control Board page on the matter.

Weapons Policy

No weapons whether edged or projectile firing or replicas (weapon props) thereof may be carried in any part of the convention center unless they have been peace-bonded by the Convention staff in Operations. This may be checked by the Operations team from time to time during the convention. Real firearms are not allowed in the convention area at any time. Light emitting Laser devices are not permitted in the convention area unless being used in a program to point items out as part of the Program item. The convention reserves the right to decide what constitutes a weapon/weapon prop depending on the attendee's use of the article. Operations shift supervisors will have final say on what constitutes a weapon or weapon prop.

Anyone found carrying a non-peace-bonded weapon or weapon prop will be asked to return it to their room.

Prop Weapons During the Masquerade

The Masquerade Director must approve the use of a weapons prop during the Masquerade. If you wish to use live steel or real non-firearm weapons (e.g. whips), you will need to also notify Operations staff. Weapon props (or real weapons) for the Masquerade must be wrapped when being transported to and from the Masquerade. The Masquerade Director must be informed in advance of any weapons props or real weapons being used. In the case of real weapons, which may not include firearms of any sort, an Operations supervisor will attend the pre-Masquerade meeting to ensure that all safety precautions are being adhered to by those who will be wielding those weapons.

Dealers

Weapons and weapon props sold in the Dealers’ room must be wrapped by the dealer and taken away by the purchaser and not unwrapped until off site, in the buyer’s hotel room or in the Operations room if the purchaser wishes to peace-bond the weapon or weapon prop. Please remember that no firearms will be peace-bonded and take them away wrapped. Dealers must make customers aware of the need to keep weapons wrapped until they have been approved and peace-bonded by the Operations team.

And, while it is true that more people see weapons about on the streets in the US, it is also true that a great many fans find the display and use of these intimidating. This policy is basically intended to ensure members feel that their safety is being taken into account.

Smoking

The Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 70.160 (a.k.a. “The law”) ensures that all public places and places of employment are smoke free; business owners must post “No Smoking Signs” on all entrances to the premise, and ensure that no patrons are smoking within 25 feet of any door, window, or exit. Therefore, smoking is not allowed in any of the convention indoor venues, and smokers must respect the 25 foot restriction when outdoors.
Venues

Sasquan’s primary venue is the Spokane Convention Center (CC). Events, Program, Exhibits and Offices are all here.

Adjacent to the Spokane Convention Center is the DoubleTree (DBT); it’s located at the Exhibit Hall end of the Convention Center. The DoubleTree has daytime activities like SpoCon Presents, Gaming, the Teen Lounge and some small Program items & Meetups on the first floor. Convention Operations, Childcare and the Con Suite upstairs in the hotel. The DoubleTree also has evening activities like Filking & Anime.

While the brand new Grand Hotel does not have any official convention functions, Sasquan has many members staying there and there are excellent bars and restaurants. 47North/Amazon is sponsoring a an open reception there on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the Cedar Ballroom.

Riverfront Park is out the back doors of the Convention Center and will be home to First Night, a Star Party, and Stroll with the Stars. If you are staying in a Red Lion Hotel, crossing Riverfront Park is the fastest way to get to Sasquan.

The Davenport (DAV) is a few blocks away and has open evening parties, the evening Fanzine Lounge and Dances.

All of the venues, as well as the Red Lions and the Rubys, are nearby. Spokane is a very flat, shady, walkable city with a straightforward checkerboard street layout.

Convention Shuttle Service

There will be 24 hour shuttle service between the convention center and the Davenport (as well as the 2 Red Lions, the Grand, & the DoubleTree). We are targeting a 15–20 minute wait for most times, less for critical times on Friday & Saturday, and 45 minutes during the wee hours.

STOP 1—Spokane Convention Center/ Grand Hotel (Pull-in at the INB Performing Arts Center / Convention Center near the Breezeway, across the street from the Grand Hotel)

STOP 3—Red Lion Hotel at the Park (front entrance)

STOP 4—Red Lion River Inn (Street side front entrance)

STOP 5—Davenport Hotel (Post Street entrance of the Historic Hotel); Ruby Hotel on First is around the corner and the River Park Square mall is 2 blocks away.

Currently we are considering multiple routes in order to make the most efficient use of the shuttles, so not all shuttles will go to all of these stops. Yes, we will clearly mark the shuttles as to which routes they cover.

There is also inexpensive bus service all over downtown Spokane.

If, for some reason, the shuttle timing doesn’t work for you, it’s only about $5 for a taxi from the Red Lion at the Park to the historic Davenport area, and most of the other hotels are closer together and would be less. Uber is also available in Spokane.
Quick reference to all of the functions at Sasquan, when they’re open where you’ll find them. See the schedule for detailed information.

WIFI

The favorite two syllables of fans these days! Availability:

- Free throughout the convention center (96K Bandwidth)
- Free low bandwidth in sleeping and meeting rooms at these convention hotels: Davenport, Red Lion, and Double Tree (covers guest rooms and common areas)

In addition, free WIFI is available in Riverfront Park and Riverpark Square shopping mall (downtown Spokane), and numerous other locations as noted here:

http://www.openwifispots.com/city_free_wifi_wireless_hotspot-Spokane_WA.axp#47.65878,-117.42604699999998,14

Please avoid streaming music or video; remember, you’re sharing the WIFI with every other Sasquan user in the Convention Center. For those with paid data plans, Verizon, AT&T, T-Mobile and Sprint are the major regional carriers.

Events

Hugo Awards Ceremony—INB Performing Arts Center

The 2015 Hugo Awards ceremony promises to be one of the most memorable in years. Come be a part of history on Saturday, August 22, at 8 p.m. in the INB Performing Arts Center. Your Masters of Ceremony will be Sasquan Guest of Honor David Gerrold and Tananarive Due, who have promised an entertaining ceremony. There will be overflow seating in Integra Ballroom 100B and in Guinan’s Place in Hall C. We encourage those with small children to use Guinan’s as your spot as that venue is more flexible and may be more comfortable for families.

Not at Sasquan? Follow the Hugo Awards Ceremony via UStream and/or Twitter during the ceremony:

- Ustream: http://www.ustream.tv/search?q=Hugo%20Awards
- Twitter: @thehugoawards

We are bookending the 2015 Hugo Awards with “The Road to the Hugos,”—a livestreamed Internet pre-and-post Hugo broadcast featuring hosts Stephen Schapansky and Warren Frey of Radio Free Skaro. It will start one hour before and end one half hour after the 2015 Hugo Awards Ceremony.

If all goes to plan, Sasquan will feature the first Worldcon guest who is literally out of this world—Special Guest Dr. Kjell Lindgren, launched successfully to the International Space Station on July 22, and will be presenting from 200 miles high at 17,500 miles per hour.
Masquerade—INB Performing Arts Center

The Worldcon Masquerade is a judged costuming competition and stage show. Entrants are separated into division based on the costuming skill levels of the participants and judged by a panel (including some of our Guests of Honor and experienced costumers). Always a very popular highlight of any Worldcon, this event will be held in the INB Performing Arts Center theatre on Friday, Aug. 21 at 8pm. There will be overflow seating in Integra Ballroom 100B and in Guinan’s Place in Hall C. We encourage those with small children to use Guinan’s as your spot as that venue is more flexible and may be more comfortable for families.

The Masquerade Halftime show will feature filk Guest of Honor Tom Smith, and the Master of Ceremonies for the evening will be Kevin Roche. We’re looking forward to a great Masquerade, with a special category based on Guest of Honor David Gerrold’s books and stories. Come join us—we’ll have a blast!

Opening Ceremonies—Integra Telecom Ballroom 100B

This is a celebration of the Great Northwest and how history, science fiction, and fantasy overlap. Meet our wonderful Guests and get a taste of things to come. We are thrilled to have local a Native American Storyteller to welcome us all to a great convention.

First Night—Riverfront Park

First Night is your chance to get a taste of the convention, a look at our host city, and a stroll through the park. We’ll start right after Opening Ceremonies on Wednesday. Meet and greet your fellow members of Sasquan. Take in a bit of Spokane. Music, laughter, fandom, fun, and food trucks. And don’t be too surprised to see a parade or a hula hoop.

Radio Plays—Girl Genius

Kaja and Phil Foglio are bringing us two fun and fantastic Girl Genius Radio Plays on Wednesday. Family Friendly and sure to keep you laughing!

Keith and Alan’s Movie News and Previews: Trailer Park!

Why sit through a panel of what are, essentially, commercials? Because we are so much more than that! Trailers, movie news and rumors from Hollywood and beyond. We also highlight the latest trends, innovations, and challenges for the industry and also the wider entertainment culture: TV shows, home video, theme parks—the whole gamut!

Play—“God Is an Iron”—Integra Telecom Ballroom 100B

“God is an Iron” is a faithful adaptation of Spider Robinson’s short story of the same name published in 1979. The opening line is enough to tell what story we’re talking about: “I smelled her before I saw her.” It’s the story of Karen; a young woman and a “wirehead” at the very end of her rope; and of Joe, the mysterious man who discovers her and puts her back together. It becomes clear, however, that they are both broken in their own ways and that, while he saves her life directly, she may be saving his as well. Note that this story has some disturbing elements to it and it is not for children.

Closing Ceremonies—Integra Telecom Ballroom 100B

Say farewell to Spokane and hello to Kansas City by reflecting on this Worldcon and looking forward to next year. Our closing ceremony will cap off a great convention in a great city in a great year of SF and Fantasy. Parting is such sweet sorrow.

Balls and Dances—CC 300A & DAV Marie Antoinette & Hall of Doges

Nightly balls, tea dances, classes in classic Terpsichore—dance events will abound at Sasquan!

The WorldProm, Nanny Ogg (Discworld) and Ceili will be in CC 300A, a brand new ballroom with excellent lighting and sound.
The Social Dance Odysseys, Girl Genius Ball and Friday night Fusion will be in the Davenport’s Marie Antoinette, a traditional ballroom with a built-in wooden dance floor.

The Regency will be in the Hall of Doges, a fanciful spot decorated in the manner of the royalty of Venice.

Anime & Cartoons—DBT Grand Ballroom Salon I

Cartoons from an extensive personal collection will run three hours each day at Sasquan, featuring works from Disney, Warner Bros., Terrytoons, UPA, Universal/Lantz and other classic animators.

Immerse yourself in anime! From the current hits to the shows we all know and love, the anime department will be sure to have you coming back for more. Days will be themed from Comedy to Classics, Paranormal to Fantasy, and a healthy dose of science fiction on top, you’ll be sure to walk into an anime that fits your style at any time.

Audio Theater—CC 203

Blast off for adventure on a galactic scale with Space Casey and Brad Lansky! Let Hammer Horror make your spine tingle! Unravel mysteries with Ruby the Galactic Gumshoe, or just have Firesign Theatre explain the cosmos to you! And in the true spirit of radio programs of yore, the Incomparable Radio Theater of the Air will be on hand to present a live audio drama.

Film Festival—CC 205

Sasquan Film Festival will be screening films in the Spokane convention center. The best in Science Fiction and Fantasy, Horror, Animation, Fan and Documentary films will be shown. Highlights include the screening of the documentary, Lakeside: A Year with Jay Lake, horror shorts based on the writings of H.P. Lovecraft and Edgar Allen Poe. Also, international animation shorts and more.

Exhibits

We are using all of the exhibit halls so most of the walls between the exhibit halls will be open. As a result, it’s a little tricky to easily distinguish which hall an exhibit/convention function is in. We’ve created a grid system for this map to more easily help you locate items as well as listing the approximate hall each item is in. Extensive signage will also be available to guide you to the item you are seeking.

Hall A/B: home of the Art Show, Artist/Author Alley, Dealers Room and Site Selection

Hall B: Autographing sessions, LEGOs play area. There will be exhibits of fan interest (including the Discworld exhibit), which will feature guided tours, the Guest of Honor exhibit, various exhibits of photography, the Craft Corner and conversation areas, the Maker Space (with 3-D printing demonstrations), fossils from the Stonerose Interpretive Center & Eocene Fossil Site and fan tables.

Hall C: Looking for a fun spot to hang out? Guinan’s Place: Cabaret, Watering Hole & Bar (more on that later) is here to fill that need! Other activities in Hall C include Literary Beers, the Costume Exhibit, the Fanzine Lounge (aka “The Lost World Fanzine Lounge”), and, on Saturday, Super Science Saturday (with Mobius Children’s Science Museum to provide hands-on fun activities for kids of all ages).

Hall D (Riverside Lobby): the all-important Registration area, plus Information Desk, Accessibility Information, Volunteers, Masquerade Registration, Program Participant Check-in and Message Boards.

Site Selection—CC Exhibit Hall B

Site Selection for the 2017 Worldcon will open on Wednesday at 2pm and remain open until 6pm. On Thursday and Friday, it will open at 10am and close at 6pm. The winner will be announced on Saturday. It costs $40 to vote, and buys you a supporting membership for the 2017 Worldcon regardless of where it will be held.

Guinan’s Place: Cabaret, Watering Hole & Bar—CC Exhibit Hall C

We are excited to be hosting Guinan’s Place. Drop in and sample a bit of space, a full bar with local beers (selections from Steamplant, Iron Horse, NoLi, Liberty Ciderworks & Laughing Dog). We will have performances throughout the day and evening by singers, magicians, jugglers, story tellers, comedians, other performers of all kinds. We will also host some game shows and auctions. Both the Masquerade and the Hugo Ceremonies will be streamed live on Guinan's big screen, for those who would like to view these events in a relaxed and convivial atmosphere. Con members are invited to come in and sit a while and enjoy the atmosphere and the show.

Gaming—DBT Grand Ballroom, Salon V

Table Gaming will be open 24 hours/day, beginning at 2pm on Wednesday and running throughout the convention.

Lost World Fanzine Lounge—CC Exhibit Hall C (Days), DAV 819 (Nights)

The League of Extraordinary Faneds, led by Randy Byers, will be running the Fanzine Lounge this year. We're calling it the Lost World Fanzine Lounge, because fanzines are a little pocket world of dinosaurs like us.

The evening Fanzine Lounge is in a party suite in the Davenport. We will host a variety of parties and events, including a reception (or maybe two) for the Trans-Atlantic Fan Fund (TAFF) and Down Under Fan Fund (DUFF) delegates. Rumor has it that Dave O’Neill will conduct a fannish trivia quiz in the daytime lounge. We also intend to put together a memorial for our friend, Stu Shahman, and to honor the last group to run a Worldcon in Washington State, the Nameless Ones, and their Hugo-winning fanzine, Cry of the Nameless.

Yes, there will be fanzines. Amongst the fanzine-oriented events will be the collation of WOOF, the collection of fanzines distributed at Worldcon by the World Order of Faneditors. The OE for WOOF this year is Andy Hooper, so if you’d like to contribute please contact him at fanmailaph@aol.com.

Masquerade Registration Desk

All Masquerade entrants must check in at the Masquerade Registration Desk, which will be open Wednesday, August 19th from 9am to 6pm, Thursday, August 20th from 9am to 6pm, and Friday, August 21st from 9am to noon PDT, at the Convention Center, near Registration in Exhibit Hall D.
Program Participant Check-in After they register at Registration, panelists can check in with Program at the Program Participant Check-in table in Hall D.

Discworld—CC Exhibit Hall B
Sir Terry Pratchett’s Discworld humorous fantasy series will be represented by an exhibit at Sasquan. Intended to act as an introduction to Discworld for those unfamiliar with the series, it will include fun references for longtime fans as well. Items displayed will include a mix of official merchandise, vintage and handmade items, costume assemblages, a memorial to Sir Terry Pratchett, and a demonstration of the “Discworld: The Ankh Morpork Map” app. We look forward to welcoming Sir Terry’s many fans from around the globe at Sasquan.

Maker Space/3-D Printer—CC Exhibit Hall C
Most people, if they’ve heard of Makerspaces or Hackspaces, think of people tearing apart things and remaking them, or reprogramming them. That is one aspect of a Maker space, but Maker spaces include a wide range of activities such as: 3D printing (for costume props, prototyping, cool gadgets); Laser cutting (costume props, custom designing boxes or cases out of wood, leather, or acrylic); Programm ing (Raspberry Pi, Arduino); Electronics (circuits, breadboards); Robotics; Soldering; Crafts (spinning, felting, sewing/designing costumes, using sewable electronics); and Costume construction (foam, fabric, EL wire, recycled items).

Craft Corner – CC Exhibit Hall B
A table set aside in the Exhibit Hall for knitters, crocheters, beaders and other crafters who want a spot to sit and stitch.

LEGOs Play Area—CC Exhibit Hall C
For children of all ages; need we say more! Come and play with lots and lots of LEGO building bricks, generously loaned to us by The Spokane Public Library. Come build fantastic things. (We may even have some other games and toys.)

Messages to Orbit —CC Exhibit Hall C
This is a unique Sasquan feature. Take a minute to record a greeting for our non-attending Special Guest American astronaut Dr. Kjell Lindgren (@astro_kjell on Twitter) who is currently on the International Space Station.

Food in the Convention Center
The Spokane Convention Center has very strict rules against bringing in outside food. So please, if you have to have food (for example) from a pizza or sushi place outside the convention center, eat it there or in your hotel room but not in the convention center. Thanks for your cooperation.

At the Center, there are these places to buy food or drink: Hall D
Snack Bar, Convenience Store near Bays rooms, and the 2nd floor coffee/snack bar. There are nearby restaurants throughout downtown Spokane; please consult the restaurant guide for more details.

Tentative hours for concessions in the Convention Center are:
9am–7pm daily.

In 1974, the World’s Fair was held in Spokane and was the first exposition with an environmental theme. As you enjoy Sasquan, you’re just steps away from where that event was held. Do your part to honor that event by cleaning up after yourself and by recycling whereever recycling is available.

Programming
Program items go way beyond talking heads and will offer you five days of discussions to engage you and leave you with a world of new things to think about long after the con is over. Most panels are 45 minutes long, starting promptly on the hour and ending 15 minutes before the next hour. Most readings are 20 minutes long, starting promptly on the hour or half-hour.
See the full list of participants in Sasquan Program, Events and in SpoCon Presents as well as an index to their activities at the convention in the back of this guide.

Super Science Saturday—CC Exhibit Hall C

Sasquan’s Super Science Saturday contains ideas about topics ranging in size from the universe to the neutrino. Storing anti-matter, looking at the future of aging, celebrating the year of the dwarf planet (hello, Pluto!)—these are but a few of the topics found on panels and talks that you are sure to find of interest. Robotics demonstrations and hands on science activities provided by the local children’s science museum, Mobius, will run throughout the day, and will provide fun for all ages. A poster contest for post-secondary students will also run throughout the day, with the authors present at their posters to answer questions and meet interested fans between noon—2pm.

Children’s Program—CC 206BCD, 207

Our Children’s programming, CC 206BCD and CC 207, is designed for children ages 6–12 and their parents. Some items are suitable for older kids and teenagers who are welcome. We have a program for the full weekend involving art, crafts, games, science, magic, story-telling and music, and a bit of space for children to enjoy. These activities allow kids to have their own convention time. PLEASE NOTE! Children’s Programming is NOT a child-minding service; it is Worldcon programming for kids. See the Childcare section for more information.

We have a ribbon system in place for parents to determine children who can come and go (Green Comets) and children who must be with a parent/responsible adult attached (Red Satellites). For our Satellites, we ask that you provide a phone number(s), and name(s) of responsible adults who may pick up your children. In a nutshell, SATELLITES stay in 206BCD and 207, COMETS come and go.

Hours

- Wednesday 12pm–4pm.
- Thursday 10am–noon, 2–5pm
- Friday, 10am–noon, 2–5pm, 7–10pm (Masquerade half-time)
- Saturday, 10am–noon, 2–5pm, 7–10pm (end of Hugo Ceremony)
- Sunday, 10am–noon, 2–4pm

We will be closed from noon–2pm each day so that your children and our staff can have lunch—note that food purchased from outside the Convention Center is not allowed in the Convention Center. Feed your kids before you bring them in, and pick them up on time, noon and 5pm. After 15 minutes after closing, unless we hear from you, we reserve the right to turn them over to Security as lost kids.

Come help us out! We request that parents volunteer to help in Children’s Programming for 2 hours over the duration of the con. Please see our staff to schedule your time with us. Younger children are welcome in the continual company of their parents. We will have chairs available in both rooms so parents can have a moment of peace.

Young Adult Program

The Young Adult program will include exciting selection of panels, workshops, and activities for Sasquan’s teens, as well as young at heart members. From dystopias to The Wonderful Wizard of Oz, zombies, fandom, Girl Genius, and horror, our YA panels have something for everyone, plus workshops and panels on writing young adult fiction. Panelists include Kate Elliott, Dan Wells, Marissa Meyer and other fabulous authors in science fiction, fantasy, horror, and more.

Autographing—CC Exhibit Hall B

Here are some guidelines to help autographing at Sasquan run smoothly:

Most sessions have a three signature limit; some may have a one signature limit.
Once you’ve had books signed, you may be able to go to the end of the line if the author has the time to handle repeat requests from the same person.

Authors have a maximum of 45 minutes for their signings and must leave promptly at the end of their session to make way for the next set of authors.

Please be courteous if there is a line—give other fans a chance to get their books autographed.

In order to avoid having people wait in line when the line reaches too many people for the author to sign for everyone, the staff may need to close the line before the session is over.

If there is a long line, no personalizations and no disruptive photography (particularly selfies with the panelist). Some autographings may have more restrictive rules; those rules will be posted.

Costumes—CC 202C

Costume Program looks forward to having a variety of panels and workshops covering topics that you do not typically see at Worldcons as well as some favorite panels.

Costume Program focuses on workshops and demonstrations, so you can leave Sasquan with new skills and understanding that you can apply to future costumes, garments, and wearable art. Of course, we will also have panels, too.

Concerts—CC Conference Theater 110

Each afternoon, our musicians will give concerts. Additionally, there will be filk jam on Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Discworld

Various North American Discworld Guilds have been invited to organize and host DW fan meets at Sasquan and these include:

The Seamstress Guild (famous for its parties, it has many decorators, costumers and performers among its members), the Alchemists (our science minds), the Cunning Artificers (arts & crafts), Discworld Musicians and Singers (for filking and other fun), Engravers & Printers (our writers and editors), the Dark Clerks (folks who like to organize both paper and people behind the scenes), our fabulous Bakers (lovers of food and drink who may be leading some of our pub crawls), the Witches & Wizards (cunning women and men who love history, myth, and folklore), various DW Family Groups, the Black Ribboners (DW folks in recovery), a memorial for Sir Terry and more.

Filk—DBT, Spokane Falls C/D

The Filk program will feature excellent performances of filk songs old and new enhanced by people singing together. Filk Circles will start around 7pm. In addition, there will be filking as part of the “after midnight” Late Night Programming in some function rooms. Never filked before? Give it a shot at a Filk Circle.

Gaming

Gaming Program will have panels on computer and video games, board games, and roleplaying. Game designers, authors, artists, and fans will discuss not just how good games are made but how games can inform and inspire other aspects of fannish creativity. Panels we are preparing include Writing For Video Games, The Best Video Games Ever!, and The Game Designer’s Toolbox, among others.

Kaffee Klatches, Literary Beers and Pub Crawls

Kaffee Klatches and Literary Beers are small group discussions with panelists. Pub crawls are a 2 hour walk through downtown with a panelist or two. Kaffee Klatches are held up in 202A & 202B, and the Literary Beers are held in Guinan’s Place—look for the “Reserved for Literary Beer” sign. Pub Crawls will meet in the Breezeway.

Individual host sessions are strictly limited to the host and nine attendees. Many hosts will be quite popular, so you must sign up in advance. Sign-up sheets will be available at the Information Desk in Hall D the day before the item. (So, for example, you can sign up for a Thursday Kaffee Klatche on Wednesday.) Or you can sign up online or through the mobile app (see page 2).

Buy your beverage/snack at the 2nd floor coffee bar before the Kaffee Klatche is due to start.

Each person in line may sign up for only one Kaffee Klatche per day to give more people a chance to participate in a Kaffee Klatche. Provide your badge name and number. Two wait list spots are added to each session. Attendees who have not turned up by the start of the session will have their place assigned to someone on the wait list. The person on the list must be the person who attends and you cannot trade your place. You may join a session as it starts if there are free slots available and no wait list, but for more popular hosts, this scenario is very unlikely.

Note that these sessions are 45 minutes long. Please help the next session start on time and do not delay the hosts at the end of the session.

Publisher Presentations—CC 300D

Major publishers in our field give you a taste of the writers and fiction they will be releasing in the upcoming months.

Other Awards

In addition to the Hugo Awards (which will be held Saturday, 8pm, INB Theater (video feeds to 100B & Guinan’s Place during the event, as well as to Ustream), other SF-related awards are given out at Worldcon. See the schedule for more information.

SpoCon Presents — DBT Grand Ballroom Salons III & IV

SpoCon is Spokane’s local premier Science Fiction and Fantasy convention. It has run annually in Spokane since 2008, and is only getting bigger and better with every year. SpoCon has hosted such illustrious special guests as C.J. Cherryh, Rayce Bird, George Troester, and Brandon Sanderson, and we’re far from finished! In 2015, SpoCon partnered with Worldcon to welcome them to the Inland Northwest with open arms and meld our fandom with theirs, as it is meant to be. We are literature. We are gaming. We are fandom. We are SpoCon. Join us at Sasquan, and in Spokane 2016, as we continue the tradition of greatness that is the fandom of the Inland Northwest.

Stroll with the Stars — CC Breezeway, 9am

Stroll with the Stars is a gentle walk each morning from Thursday–Sunday. At this Worldcon, Spokane’s Centennial Trail, which is paved and mostly flat, parallels the Spokane River through the heart of downtown. It will provide a wonderful scenic venue for the Stroll. A number of Authors, Artists, Editors and even some GoHs will be participating. The Stroll will meet at the bronze statue memorializing Michael Anderson (one of the Columbia astronauts who graduated from a local area high school) on the river side of the breezeway. No sign-up is required—just arrive by 9am. The Stroll will end at the Spokane Convention Center before 10am.

Teen Lounge—DBT Grand Ballroom, Salon II

Come mingle with like-minded people in the Young Adult lounge. Play games, talk books/gaming/costuming and make new friends. Feeling worn out from conning? Come by to sit and relax. Drinks will be provided, and snacks will be available during the Welcome Reception.

World Science Fiction Society (WSFS) Business Meetings — CC 300B

As most attendees know, the Hugo nomination process for this year was marked by spirited debate and discussion throughout the blogosphere. This is a topic sure to receive attention at this year’s WSFS meetings, in addition to debating such questions as:

- Why do the Hugo Awards have the categories they do?
Should there be different categories, or should some of those that are there be changed?

Is the nomination process working well, or should it be modified?

In addition, WSFS deals with issues pertaining to the Constitution and Standing Rules, which can be found here: http://www.wsfs.org/bm/rules.html and are also published in the Souvenir Book.

You, as a Sasquan member, get to help make those rules. There’s no Board of Directors, no House of Representatives, no Congress of Deputies. Every member of Worldcon can participate in the rule-making process, like a big “town meeting.”

The Business Meeting is held on the second, third, and fourth mornings of the Worldcon (rarely, a meeting on the fifth day is required, though there is a good chance there will be one this year). Every member of WSFS may attend the meeting, propose changes, debate those changes, and vote on them. For Sasquan, the business meetings will be held in CC Room 300B (standing room available in 300A) and begin at 10am.

Changes to the WSFS Constitution, including any changes to the rules for the Hugo Awards, must be approved by votes at two consecutive Worldcons. In addition to business passed on from the last Worldcon (Loncon 3), new business will be introduced this year. Meetings are conducted under a relatively formal structure, as codified in Robert’s Rules of Order, Newly Revised and the WSFS Standing Rules.

Come and be a part of the government of your society. Note: the Business Meeting will be recorded, and the recordings will be uploaded to the Worldcon Events YouTube Channel. Your voice and image may appear in the recording. Check the newsletter for any updates about the Business Meeting throughout the convention.

Writers Workshops—CC 201A & 201B.

Nearly 60 Sasquan members submitted speculative fiction manuscripts in advance to be constructively criticized by industry professionals. Since evaluating all of these at once would be a logistical nightmare, the entries have been divided into 20 sections so they can all receive proper attention. Over the past few weeks all participants have been reading their assigned manuscripts and forming opinions on them. Over the course of Sasquan all of the entrants will be accepting feedback on their work. All workshop sections are closed to non-participants.

Meetups, Special Interest and Discussion Groups

Meetups are organized by individuals or groups and not by Sasquan. Most meetups are scheduled during off-peak program times between 9:00am and 10:00am or after 5:30pm. Space permitting, you can organize a discussion of your favorite Marvel superhero or have a meeting of your local club at Worldcon. Other common meetups include Friends of Bill W. and Black Ribboners (both for fans in recovery), informal religious services, and the like. Please note: no outside food or drink is allowed in Sasquan program space, but food or drink bought inside the Convention Center is fine in any function room!

Services

Accessibility—CC Hall D

If you have any questions on mobies or large-size print publications, stop by the Accessibility table during the day.

Quiet Room—CC 101

People sometimes need a break from the bustle of noise of a Worldcon. To provide that break, Sasquan has established a Quiet Room. Relax and unwind in a comfy chair. But please be respectful of your fellow members. Anything you wouldn’t do in a library, don’t do here.

Bag Check Room—CC 402C

You can check a bag (with visitation privileges) for $2/day. You must remove the bag by closing time each day. Sasquan assumes no liability for theft or damage.
Childcare—DBT, 12th floor

We are thrilled to have chosen KiddieCorp (www.kiddiecorp.com) as the professional childcare provider to Sasquan. KiddieCorp has worked regularly with Worldcons in recent years, in L.A., Denver, Montreal, Reno, Chicago and San Antonio, and has an excellent understanding of our needs and interests. KiddieCorp’s service will be available to all children aged 12 or under as of the start of the convention. Child memberships costing $90 are available for all children in this age group and include 8 hours of free childcare. Alternately, a total of 8 hours of free childcare are included with Family Memberships. Additional hours are then chargeable at a rate of $10 per hour. Children under 6 can attend the convention as KidsinTow without paying a membership fee, but will not receive any free childcare and will need to pay the $10 per hour for childcare hours they use. Your children must be registered with the convention (whether with Child/Family memberships or as KidsinTow) before they can be booked into the KiddieCorp service. We have included evening services on Friday and Saturday to enable parents to attend the parties as well as Masquerade and/or Hugo Award Ceremony. Please note that children can only receive a maximum of 10 hours of childcare on any single day.

The childcare service will be available during the following hours (subject to change):

- Wednesday 8/19: 1:00pm—6:00pm
- Thursday 8/20: 9:30am—6:00pm
- Friday 8/21: 9:30am—Midnight
- Saturday 8/22: 9:30am—Midnight
- Sunday 8/23: 9:30am—3:00pm

Childcare capacity is limited and we urge parents to book all childcare hours in advance, when possible, so we can ensure adequate staffing and service.

To sign up, go to the KiddieCorp page: https://www.kiddiecorp.com/sasquankids.htm

Places will be limited and allocated on a first-come, first-served basis, so please book well in advance.

If you have any questions about childcare services, please contact Lisa GarrisonRagsdale, Childcare Liaison, at childcare@sasquan.org.

Volunteers—CC Exhibit Hall D

Want to help with the convention while you’re here? Just about every area of Sasquan needs volunteers. You can work a little or a lot. Stop by the Volunteer table in Exhibit Hall D between 10am and 6pm.

Mailing and Shipping Services

FedEx is located across the street from the Spokane Convention Center (259 W Spokane Falls Blvd, Spokane, WA; (509) 484-0601) and it is open 24 hours a day offering all kinds of copying, printing and mailing services. The main USPS downtown office is located at 904 W. Riverside Ave, #109, approximately 7 blocks west of the Convention Center; it is open 8–5, M–F.

Consuite (aka the Tempus Fugit Café) DBT 1502 (Presidential Suite)

The Tempus Fugit Café will be open 24 hours a day starting Wednesday at 3 p.m. and closing Sunday at 3 p.m., so even when the parties close up, we’ll still be open and a fun place to hang out. You’ll likely find something good to eat or drink then too. We will reopen as “Dead Dog” at 8 p.m. Sunday.

We promise to always have carbs and or protein available for your energy needs. We’ll have four overflow rooms, one of which will be a nut free room for those with allergies and another set up for gluten free/vegetarian/vegan needs. There will also be some Kosher food/drinks but this might be limited.

There will be hot foods at various times through the weekend, so make sure to keep checking in. We look forward to passing the time with you!
Parties

Register Your Party!

Please remember that we need to know if you're planning on hosting a party. Please email parties@sasquan.org, or fill out this form online http://sasquan.org/contact/. Whether it is a small private gathering of friends or a big blowout, please register your party and let us know your plans. This will enable us to provide you with a little Party Kit of some helpful supplies!

- The Davenport Historic Hotel (the only approved hotel for public parties)
- The Davenport Tower & the Grand (private parties only)
- The DoubleTree Hotel (private parties only)
- The Red Lion at the Park (private parties only)
- The Red Lion River Inn (private parties only)

Alcohol Policy

Alcohol restrictions have been legally clarified, and we are replacing previous guidelines with these—this applies to parties both public & private:

- You may not advertise in any way that you will be serving alcohol. This includes ads in publications, party flyers at fan tables or on party boards, or other postings at the Convention Center or hotels.
- You must check photo ID for legal age (21 years old)—your party’s bartender is legally responsible. You must be at least 21 years old to serve alcohol. (Convention badges in no way verify an attendee’s age.)
- “Last Call” is 1:30am, no serving alcohol after 2am.
- Alcohol may not be sold.
- Be discreet while bringing your party supplies into the hotel—boxes should be closed, alcohol bottles should be “invisible,” and don’t discuss party plans with bellmen or other hotel employees.

A permit is not required to serve alcohol in a suite or private room. If you purchased a permit as directed under the previous guidelines, convention Treasurer Bruce Farr will be happy to reimburse you. You can reach him at finance@sasquan.org by sending an email with a scan of receipt attached, or at the convention through the con office (located in the Convention Center). Please bring your receipt with you.

Signage/Taping onto Walls

You can advertise your public party (mindful of the Liquor Board rules above) in convention publications, with flyers on your Fan Table (if you have one), and at several Party Boards that will be located at the hotels and Convention Center.

The Davenport Historic Hotel will allow computer-generated (professional-looking) signage on our Party Board on the first floor (not on lobby walls, or other non-designated spaces), and will allow those same signs on hallway walls near your room, your door, and inside your party room. Similarly, if you are putting up decor in your party room, you may only use painter’s tape to affix it.

The other hotels do not permit you to post any type of flyers on their walls. If you are hosting a private party, you may post things on the walls inside your room using painter’s tape.

Promote in the Newsletter!

If you are hosting a public party, Sasquan Newsletter wants your “Party Previews”: Rather than tell members about parties that have already happened, we want to get members excited about upcoming parties ahead of time. Deadline for the evening edition each day is 2pm. Send party info to newsletter@sasquan.org
Party Competition

We will be collecting ballots and awarding titles for:

- Best Food
- Best Themed Drink
- Best Decor
- Best Overall Party

Ballots will be available at Registration and on the Party Floors. Ballot boxes will be on the Party Floors while parties are going on, and will be in Party Ops (Porter Room in the Davenport, 2nd floor) the rest of the time.

Note: Ballots must be filled out by the member voting. Valid ballots will require the members badge number, badge name and registered name. Any appearance of ballot stuffing or prefilled ballots will result in your party being disqualified from the awards.

Davenport Amenities

The Davenport Hotels have microwaves available to rent for $15/day, and several of the suites come with mini-fridges. While cooking in the rooms is not allowed, utilizing crockpots and the like to reheat food is acceptable.

Thanks

While Sasquan is a visitor to Spokane, we’ve found local organizations to be extremely helpful.

We’re particularly grateful to the Spokane Public Library for the many ways they’ve supported us this year—loaning the 3-D printer, the Legos, toys, and for hosting the Tuesday Welcome reception. They’re just down the street at 906 West Main Ave. http://www.spokanelibrary.org/

Auntie’s kindly hosted a June publicity meeting and is a cool independent bookstore less than 2 blocks away at 402 W. Main Ave. http://www.auntiesbooks.com/

Thanks also to the Spokane Astronomical Society for lending a hand with the Star Party. http://www.spokaneastronomical.org/

Next Year—in Kansas City Missouri!

The Worldcon moves to another city very year, and next year it will be in Kansas City from August 17-21. MidAmeriCon II’s guests will be Kinuko Y. Craft, Patrick and Teresa Nielsen Hayden, Tamora Pierce, Michael Swanwick and Pat Cadigan. Visit the MidAmeriCon II website at http://www.midamericon2.org for all the details.
1003 Wednesday 9:00am 10hr CC Hall D (Riverside Lobby) Registration Opens
At the door and pre-registered attendee's can pick up their badges. Bring along a photo ID to pick up your badge if you're preregistered for the con.

1006 Wednesday 9:00am 10hr CC Hall D (Riverside Lobby) Information/Volunteers/Accessibility Open
Have a question about Sasquan or Spokane? Need to sign up for an item requiring advance sign-up? Willing to give the convention a hand? Need help with accessibility issues? Stop by the Information Booth and ask.

1009 Wednesday 10:30am 4hr 30min CC Breezeway/Statue Blood Drive
Stop by the Inland Northwest Blood Center bus that will be parked right outside the front doors of the Convention Center to donate a pint of blood. Give back to the local community. You can make an appointment to give online. Robert A. Heinlein would have thanked you for your donation. We thank the Heinlein Society for its support.

1012 Wednesday 12:00pm 15min CC 206BCD Children's Program Opens
Activities for children from 6–12 who are Sasquan members or Kids-in-Tow. We have a program for the full weekend involving art, crafts, games, science, magic, story-telling and music, and a bit of space for children to enjoy. See http://sasquan.org/program/kids-and-young-adult/ for details.

1015 Wednesday 12:00pm 45min CC 300C How to Moderate a Panel

Star Wars: Are We Hopelessly Spoiled?

From almost the moment the first Star Wars movie came out in 1977, it became an instant classic. The first three movies were widely hailed. But the three prequels...not so much. No matter how great the upcoming “The Force Awakens” is...will we be able to appreciate it, or will we nitpick it to death? Longtime Star Wars fans examine the series and comment on what’s known about the next SW movie.

How Did They Do That Without Computers? Noreascon Chairs Talk About Evolution of Technology & Convention Planning

Once upon a time, conventions were planned using telephones, note cards, and typewriters. How did they do a budget without spreadsheets? Or create publications without desktop publishing? Or communicate with their committee without cellphones or email? From the horse-and-buggy days to the Web, how has con-running been transformed? Noreascon chairs talk about how technology has helped (and hindered) convention planning.

Come to Salon III to check out the signup sheets and choose from a wide selection of events in a variety of systems and genres. We are ready to provide a fun and exciting role-playing experience to everyone from the new player looking to try out role-playing to long time players who are looking for new and challenging games!
Knight Court
The world is a big place, and a lot of bad stuff finds its way to Chicago, but the current Full Moon rising over Tokyo spells trouble for Japan. Supernatural forces hidden for centuries have decided to show themselves, enthralling most of the city and it is up to those “in the know” and “not quite human” to start putting the pieces together.
It may not just be Tokyo that needs saving, or it may be the world. This isn’t a job for one wizard. It’s a job for everyone. Join the Resistance...Welcome to Knight Court.
Knight Court is a Role-playing event set in the world of Jim Butcher’s Dresden Files. It is a continuously running event that anyone can join or leave at any time. Come play for as long as you want. See if your character can help solve Tokyo’s mystery, and stop the end of the world!
Knight Court will be open from 6 pm to Midnight Wednesday, 10 am to Midnight Thursday and 5 pm to 11 pm Friday, with the Finale starting at approximately 7 pm on Friday. No knowledge of the Dresden universe is required to play.

The Art of Jeff Sturgeon
Jeff Sturgeon is a Northwest artist known for his beautiful, award-winning metal paintings. He is considered one of the top astronomical and science fiction artists working in the field today with exhibitions across the country. His unique works are highly sought after by collectors. Jeff paints primarily with acrylics on textured aluminum, and over the years has gathered an impressive client list, from book, music, and magazine publishers to JPL NASA. Jeff was an art director and game designer in the computer game business for many years—most notably at Electronic Arts—before he turned to illustrating and painting full time. Come for a tour de force of the works of this ground-breaking artist and perhaps get a sneak peek into his upcoming projects!

Hard SF Movies: Rare but Not Extinct
Hard SF has always been rare in the movies. “Forbidden Planet,” “2001,” “2010,” and a few others set the standard. Recently, “Interstellar” had a well-known physicist keeping the science (mostly) in line with reality, and next year we’ll have “The Martian.” What are the great works of hard SF in the movies? What tried and failed? Are there cases where they tried to keep the science so hard they hurt the story? (We can all name pieces of written SF that did that.)

Enjoy Your Intermission—PG

Enjoy Your Intermission is a touching portrait documentary of Hi-Way Drive-in theater, a drive-in theater two hours outside of New York City whose owners carry a distinct and inspiring passion and dedication to their trade. This film dives much deeper than simply being a portrait of a drive-in theater, but also addresses the changing economic, technological, and experiential climate of cinema itself, and its impact on the movie-going experience.

Iron Cloud—PG-13
SF&F—Poland
Director: Nikodem Wojciechowski

The sci-fi drama Iron Cloud tells the story of two brothers living in the eastern totalitarian country. Life for them takes a turn for the worse after the younger brother gets beaten during an interrogation and the older one, with his wife and daughter, are brutally intimidated by police. The boy hatches a plan of escape to an unnamed, free, technologically advanced neighboring country. The technocratic West will welcome the immigrants with open arms and give them shelter, but not exactly in a way they have always expected. Their new home, apparently a perfect place to live, will soon turn out to be only a new version of prison people build for one another.

The scene is an alternative Budapest, with a special kind of dictatorship controlled by a company group called GOLDEN DIMENSION. Lens is dark, cynical character of this world. With his special ability of unknown origin, under the influence of a drug, he can burn the pictures of the past and the future into photosensitive paper. Lens hates the present because he understands the past and sees the future. He sells his ability as an outlaw private detective.
One day, the position of the oppressing power seems to get unstable as some strictly confidential documents are stolen from the home of the president of the Golden Dimension. Ironically, it is the specially skilled Lens who gets the task to find the person who could ruin the oppressing system by using the stolen incriminating evidence. When he gets to the robbery scene, it’s all set up for the experiment. He administers his drug, sticks the photosensitive paper on his nape...

Longtime fan and the Vatican astronomer, Guy Consolmagno, won the Carl Sagan Medal for Excellence in Public Communication in Planetary Science. His speech is:

Discarded Worlds: Astronomical Ideas that Were Almost Correct...
Astronomy is more than just observing; it’s making sense of those observations. A good theorist needs a good imagination... and no fear of being wrong. Ptolemy in ancient Rome, the medieval bishops Oresme and Cusa, the 19th century astronomers Schiaparelli and Pickering, all rose to the challenge; and they were all almost correct. Which is to say, they were wrong...sometimes hilariously, sometimes heartbreakingly so. What lessons

When a bank robbery goes awry, he lands in jail facing a hangman’s noose! When the corrupt owner of the bank offers him a job, Jack sees a chance to both stay alive and get rich in the process. All he has to do is steal a strongbox full of money the banker lent to Mr. Parody Jones who needs it to keep his mining operation going. If he defaults on the loan, our “friendly” banker takes over the mine. Ms. Charming Jones (Margret) comes to town to collect the money and take it back to her father, Parody. To ensure the money makes it back home, Parody has called in a favor from a man who owes him a life debt. Enter Handsome Stranger (Schwarzenegger). The toughest and strongest hero in the west. As tough as a steel plate but, unfortunately, just as dense. As Charming and Handsome set off on their journey, Jack sets out after them. Using his trusty “Bad Men Of The West” handbook, Jack sets one trap after another only to have each one go awry in true Wile E. Coyote VS The Roadrunner fashion.

Losers—PG-13
Fan Film—USA
Director: Carlos de Rosario
Pop culture addicts Zack (Zack Abramowitz (30 Rock)) and Manny (Matt Steiner) attend an engagement party where groom-to-be Roy (Devin Klos), a former 'mega-geek' has turned 'normal' in an effort to pursue a happy future with beautiful vegan baker, Emily (Maya Murphy). When learning that at a vegan party there is no meat, a delirious Manny falls into a stupor where he meets his guardian angel, Serra (Shannon Kendall). After given sage advice, Zack decides that he must save Roy from himself which leads to an epic laser sword battle! A sci-fi/fantasy comedy with loving references from Star Wars to Battlestar Galactica, LOSERS is an explosive story not to be missed! Co-Starring Jordan Gosnell (Nashville, Gossip Girl), Chaka DeSilva, Diana Cherkas, and Joe Cummings.

WSFS Business Meeting (Preliminary)
Joining Sasquan made you a member of the World Science Fiction Society, the organization that has sponsored Worldcon since 1939. WSFS holds its business meeting annually at Worldcon, making the rules that govern Worldcons and the Hugo Awards. Every attending member of Sasquan is welcome to attend the meeting, participate in debates, and vote. The Preliminary Meeting is responsible for setting the agenda for the rest of the meetings this year, including amending proposals and potentially killing them before they make it to the floor of the Main Meetings. Today’s meeting may have limited seating but a large amount of standing room is available. Please make seats available for members with accessibility issues. Arrange early to collect and read agenda handouts.

150 Years of Alice in Wonderland
This year marks the 150th anniversary of Alice in Wonderland. This classic novel continues to maintain its hold on children, young adults, and adults. What is it about this story that appeals to readers of such diverse circumstances and ages? Is it as relevant today as when it was first published? Given the various adaptations in print, film, games, etc., have the adaptations outpaced the original? And what more do they lend, add, or miss in comparison to the original story written by Lewis Carroll?

Frontier—PG-13

SF&F—USA

Director: Stephen Parkhurst

A journalist travels deep into the north woods to investigate a mysterious government facility that’s being built there. She interviews a local conspiracy theorist who’s convinced the facility is a front for a sinister secret project. The man appears crazy, until some compelling evidence begins to surface.

Basic Dyeing Techniques

Besides tie dye, what else is out there? What is ombre dyeing? Just how different do two different dye techniques look, even when the same color is used? Samples will be available for close inspection.

Vesta and the Chaotic Formation of Planets

The recent Dawn mission was sent to Vesta to inspect, close up, an intact protoplanet from the origin of the solar system. Except... Vesta’s overall density is too low, and its core and crust too big, to fit anything like what we expect an intact protoplanet to look like. Was it ripped apart and re-assembled? It looks like Vesta is giving us new clues to planet formation and evolution in a violent early solar system.

What Makes an Effective Cover Image?

Of course you can judge a book by its cover. That’s why we have cover artists! They aim to catch our eye amidst the cacophony of other titles on the bookrack, and they can make us step aside and shudder when done oh-so-poorly! But how do they attract our attention and convey the message when the title is ambiguous? When the author is an unknown? When it is a well-known series with recognizable characters? Learn some of the issues and challenges that face our interdisciplinary panelists as they beguile us into opening the book and reading that first sentence...

PG-13: Violence, Sex, and Teen Readers

When writing for teens or choosing books for young adults to read, is there a PG-13 line that needs to be drawn? Is there more violence, sex, and alcohol in young adult books today or have we just become more aware of it? And what the f’ing language kids are using in books? How does a writer address difficult or sensitive topics without going too far? Panelists discuss the danger zones within young adult fiction.

Impostor Syndrome

Impostor Syndrome has been defined as “the feeling that you aren’t actually qualified for the work you are doing and will be discovered as a fraud.” Many women, PoC, and other people from marginalized groups deal with this feeling, especially when they’ve “been socialised to value others’ opinions of their work above their own.” This workshop, based on exercises developed by Ada Initiative advisers and others, is aimed at helping convention-goers overcome Impostor Syndrome.

We Won: How SF, Fantasy and Comics Have Taken Over TV
Not very long ago it was hard to find any SF on TV, let alone good SF. But today, every night has multiple shows. Some of the most talked-about shows on TV—Game of Thrones, The Walking Dead—are genre shows, Doctor Who is a worldwide phenomenon, and even shows that started as thriller shows like Person of Interest are clearly SF. Agents of Shield, Grimm, The Flash, Gotham, Orphan Black... the list goes on. And what about the shows that start of promising and collapsed quickly (Twelve Monkeys)? Is the zombie-takeover of TV starting to peter out?

Role Playing Games as an Author’s Tool
The First Dragonlance novels were retellings of part of the Advanced Dungeons & Dragons Dragonlance modules. The Wild Cards shared universe traces its origins to super-hero RPG campaigns involving George R.R. Martin and his friends. Can playing and running Role Playing Games be a good place for an author to try out ideas? Should you write up your campaign for your next novel, or just borrow the characters? Or should authors avoid these games (or at least ignore them when writing)?

Connecting Your World’s Past with Its Present
The sense of ancient history in The Lord of the Rings and A Song of Ice and Fire is palpable and helps to make these series particularly rich. When you develop a speculative environment, do you build the ancient history early on, or do you write the current history and then go back to weave in elements of the past? What are some examples of where developing the past worked seamlessly...and examples where it seemed grafted on?

Genre and the Global Police State
Thanks to the Five Eyes—the joint intelligence sharing treaty between the USA, UK, Australia, and others—and the total penetration of the internet by NSA/GCHQ monitoring, we now live in a society that is a secret policeman’s dream. Wikileaks and then Edward Snowden blew the lid off the scandalous subversion of western democracies by unaccountable secret government agencies. In past decades, SF and fantasy provided a vehicle for trenchant social and political commentary on on-going cultural changes (consider “The Forever War” as a comment on Vietnam), but where are the genre works dealing with the global

Horror Feature—Australia
Director: Joe Bauer
At the age of 10, Australian-born Andi Gibson had what she describes as a close encounter with a flying saucer. Naturally, everyone assumed she was bonkers. That is until one notable evening, 17 years later, when an airborne extra-terrestrial armada launches a nation-wide assault on Andi's home country and at the same time, for unspecified reasons, kidnaps her mother. To add to the debacle, it seems the other nations of the world are far too insulted by their exclusion from the attack to come to Australia's aid. Now it's up to Andi, her hypochondriac brother Elliot, retired boxer cousin Keith and documentary filmmaker friend Cam to stop the attack and rescue Andi's mum. Enlisting the help of Andi's equal-parts mysterious and cringe-worthy father, the gang must battle car-chasing spaceships, martial arts aliens, giant killer robots and, perhaps most frighteningly, a deluge of family secrets in their fight to save Australia. Bloody hell, this is gonna be a long night.

WSFS Business Meeting (Main Session)

Joining Sasquan made you a member of the World Science Fiction Society, the organization that has sponsored Worldcon since 1939. WSFS holds its business meeting annually at Worldcon, making the rules that govern Worldcons and the Hugo Awards. Every attending member of Sasquan is welcome to attend the meeting, participate in debates, and vote. Today's First Main Meeting will consider the items on the agenda established at yesterday's Preliminary Business Meeting. Today's meeting may have limited seating but a large amount of standing room is available. Please make seats available for members with accessibility issues. Try to arrive early to collect and read agenda handouts.

Urban Fantasy as Modern Fairy Tale
When the classic fairy tales were first told, they were about people living in places much like those known by the storyteller, mostly small towns and rural areas. Now, people live in more urban areas. Does today's urban fantasy serve the role as fairy tales once did?

2015: The Year of the Dwarf Planets
In 2015, spacecraft visited the dwarf Planets Ceres and Pluto for the first time. I will discuss what a "dwarf planet is," and then take a look at Ceres and Pluto, and how they may help the settlement of the Solar System. Both bodies look to be reservoirs of large amounts of relatively accessible ice and, in Pluto's case, other elements, such as nitrogen, needed to sustain colonies in space.

Tom Swift's Shopton Industries, or Bellwether?
A panel of scientists and engineers describing how our lives fit, or does not fit, the way it is depicted in science fiction. People don't know what our daily life is like, how we pay our bills, how we interact with our bosses or The Suits; some SF stories get it pretty good, others get it completely wrong. Is our life more like Tom Swift or like Bellwether?

AfroFuturism in Comics & Science Fiction
Afro-futurism is a new field in academia and science fiction themed media. AfroFuturism is the philosophical and artistic expression of alternative realities relating to people of African descent. We will explore what it means to be identified as "alien" or "other" as seen through the black cultural lens of various comic art/sequential art speculative milieus, such as the universe of ICON (DC Comics) and Concrete Park (Dark Horse Comics). We will explore the symbolic enslavement of the cyber-enhancements of Deathlok (Marvel Comics), as presented in the comic series. The presentation will delve into an alternative expression of freedom and liberation as represented in the "ethno-surreal" comics, Papa Midnite (Vertigo Comics) and Christina Leveau: Voodoo Child (Vertigo Comics). As we analyze the thematic development and expression of Afrofuturist phenomena in comics, the discussion will descend into the realm of African mythology, in the context of modern Marvel Comics superhero, Black Panther. We will discuss the notion of having the world’s most technologically advanced society—the Kingdom of Wakanda—on the continent of Africa. The presentation will remix historical perceptions and re-imagine racial identity.

The 3D printing demonstration will explain what people use their 3D printers for (hint: NOT creating working 3D-printed guns; we’ll leave that to movie villains), as well as the different types of 3D printers available. The discussion will then focus on how you can create your own files or find existing files to create your own 3D printed objects. This will be followed by a practical demonstration of how a 3D printer works. (This is the second of three identical presentations.)

The Firesign Theatre: Everything You Know Is Wrong!—PG-13 SF&F Comedy—USA
Director: Philip Austin, Peter Bergman, David Ossman & Phil Proctor
As often is the case, this performance from the Firesign Theatre defies a linear synopsis. The recording takes the form of another record produced by conspiracy theorist and “seeker” Dr. Harry Cox as he tries to tie together evidence of extraterrestrial visits to earth from old recordings, films, newspaper articles and interviews, all while besieged by interruptions from his various acquaintances and hangers-on. It presents an alternate history where the American Revolution was fomented by a bunch of hemp-smoking dope-heads, and where the South won the Civil War; because, of course, Everything You Know is Wrong. Besides being a general aural feast, the record contains a great deal of sharp but subtle social satire, much of which is only gleaned after several listenings. So, if you were never a special person, you are a special person now. But be careful, because they’re in everybody’s eggs.

Memory Landscapes
Photographer Laurie Toby Edison is working on a new digital project called Memory Landscapes a feminist visual memoir. Memory is a form of time travel through your own time line. A visual memoir takes you into the artist’s time line and lets you choose your paths through their lives.
Laurie says, “I started thinking about memory, and how what is remarkable is not how much we forget, but how much we remember. My memories are not linear because, as Penelope Lively observed, ‘Inside the head everything happens at once.’ Linear narrative is a useful construct, but it’s not how we actually remember. I want to re-engage with the memories of my life, to create an autobiographical visual memoir, to express the poetics of non-linear time. Memories are filtered, by who we are now, who we were then, and what has happened in between. We view our past through layers of memories, and the past is everything that happened except this moment. It will eventually be an IPad app that creates an aesthetic of memory.”
During the panel, we will look at some of Laurie’s work in progress, and discuss the ways panelists and audience re-engage with memories of our own lives.

Hard SF for Teens
Hard science fiction isn’t just for adults. Kids today are more tech savvy than ever and fiction featuring real (or at least possible) science for teens is gaining steam. The Future of Food Science fiction rarely discusses what people will eat in the future. Denny Zager and Rick Evans’ 1969 hit song, “In the Year 2525,” predicted “Everything you think, do and say is in the pill you took today.” Will the future really replace barbecue and burgers with capsules and protein drinks? How far can nutriceuticals go? Will we print our food in 3-D or carve it from Chicken Little? How are cuisines and tastes evolving? What drives food trends?

SpoCon Presents: The SpoCon Unquisition
Can you ask a specific question without any specifics? Are you an ace at speaking in circles... wanting to know something specific, but unable or unwilling to be direct?
Then you may have what it takes to get past our panel of “Unquisitors” (like Inquisitors, but far craftier) to ask author C. J. Cherryh about her worlds and her writing.
You can’t include in your question anything that specifically relates or is unique to her published works... no proper names, specific scenarios, etc.. You have to be as vague as possible, and still have a viable question.
If you can gain the approval of our Unquisitors, then CJ may answer your question (in any way that she see fit).
Will you accept the challenge?
The SpoCon Unquisition awaits you....

Sidewise Awards & Panel: What if “Science Fiction” Had Been Called “Speculative History?”

While speculative fiction was born with the “what ifs” of Sir Thomas More’s Utopia and Mary Shelley’s Frankenstein, many of the “what ifs” over the centuries have explored various historical incidents. Explore the history of speculative history, and think about “what if” the field had been more focused on history than science.

The Sidewise Awards for Alternate History will be awarded at the beginning of this panel. 2015 nominees:

Short Form
- Ken Liu, "The Long Haul" (Clarkesworld, 11/14)
- Igor Ljubuncic, "The Girl with the Flaxen Hair" (Wars to End All Wars: Alternate Tales from the Trenches, Amazon Digital Services)
- Robert Reed, "The Principles" (Asimov’s, 4–5/14)
- Aaron Rosenberg, "Let No Man Put Asunder" (Asimov’s, 4–5/14)
- Lewis Shiner, "The Black Sun" (Subterranean, Summer 2014)

Long Form
- Alexander M. Grace, Sr., Second Front: The Allied Invasion of France, 1942–1943 (Casemate)
- Kristine Kathryn Rusch, The Enemy Within (WMG Publishing)
- Tony Schumacher, The Darkest Hour (William Morrow)
- Allen Steele, V-S Day (Ace)
- Jo Walton, My Real Children (Tor)

The Sidewise Awards for Alternate History were conceived in late 1995 to honor the best allohistorical genre publications of the year. This year’s panel of judges was made up of Stephen Baxter, Evelyn Leeper, Jim Rittenhouse, Kurt Sidaway, and Steven H Silver.

Pimp My SF Ride. Unforgettable vehicles—Nemo’s Nautilus, Doc’s Delorean, the Batmobile and more.

Mad Max back on the big screen. 30 years since Back to the Future. Who can ever forget Doc’s Delorean, the fleet of Frankenstei vehicles chasing Mad Max, or the gut-wrenching speeder bike chases in Star Wars? Let’s talk about the great vehicles in science fiction, both on paper and on screen, and how they affected the plot. Were some of these vehicles actually characters?

Dreaming on the Diamond: A Look at Baseball in the Speculative Fiction Genre

Some of our best loved stories embrace America’s favorite pastime. How has the sport infiltrated the fantasy and science fiction genres? Are all baseball stories as nostalgic as Field of Dreams? Or are they more whimsy like Angels in the Outfield or Rhubarb? What about other sports?

SF and Futurism
Futurism is the term given to the attempt to predict future trends. But isn’t that what SF does? What is the relationship between the fictional futures of SF and the potentially actual futures of futurists.
Karl Schroeder (m), Trina Marie Phillips, Matt Wallace

Dystopian Realities: What if Fiction’s Most Dire Prophecies Come True?
The bullying of humans by “helpful” digital devices (Leiber), government-mandated pregnancy (Atwood), intrusive advertising (Pohl), robot uprisings (Wilson) and other such “if this goes on” prophecies now part of our everyday lives make it seem as if sf is better at predicting dark futures than bright ones (e.g. interstellar travel, colonies on other planets). In comparison, many of science fiction’s positive fortellings—waterbeds (Heinlein), tablet computers (Clarke), wireless phones (“Get Smart”)—seem pretty small potatoes. Is that why SF has become increasingly grim? Or are dystopias more fetish than useful?

What’s Next for SWOC?
SWOC (originally the “Seattle Westercon Organizing Committee”) has been connecting fans and running conventions in the Pacific Northwest since the early 1990s. SWOC has organized four Westercons, the 2005 NASFiC, the regional convention organizer’s conference ConComCon, the filk convention Conflict, and SWOC is also the sponsoring organization of Sasquan, the 73rd World Science Fiction Convention. We’ll talk about how SWOC helps start and grow and connect local conventions to each other, and how we promote Northwest fandom to each other and to the rest of the world. What is SWOC learning from Sasquan? Where do we go from here?

How do we enter stories? By what techniques do narratives pull us in? How do the expectations we have influence how we respond? I’ll break down some narrative techniques used in openings, and then go on to discuss how openings that match expectations can encourage us to keep reading while expectations that aren’t fulfilled can sometimes cause us to stop reading. How big a part does familiarity play in how well we can understand and adjust to a story? Finally, how do the things that we think we know but may be wrong about (as in history) make it easier or harder to be drawn into a book if our beliefs aren’t met?

Chinese Myths and Traditions in Contemporary Literature of the Fantastic
China has a rich mythic tradition going back thousands of years, and these elements show up in contemporary fantasy both in China and the West (e.g., Ken Liu’s The Grace of Kings and Guy Gavriel Kay’s Under Heaven). How do Chinese authors use these elements different from Western authors? Do these mystic elements occupy a different role in the narratives of the Chinese authors than analogous Western mythic elements in the narratives of Western authors?

Thresher—PG-13
Horror—USA
Director: Michael Dahlquist
A man locked in a room faces inter-dimensional terror.
At a railway station in the middle of nowhere, David is looking for his girlfriend, Willa. They were on their way to their own wedding, when an accident stuck them at a small railway station. Now, Willa is missing and none of the other fellow passengers know where she is. Although the next train is so supposed to come any minute, David leaves the railway station to search for Willa.

Hush—PG-13
Director: Michael G. Kehoe
A young woman, Regan, babysits Irene, an 8 year old girl, during a severe storm. Regan falls asleep curled up on the couch downstairs, unaware of the sinister happenings upstairs. A powerful lightning strike kills the power to the house awakening Regan in total darkness. She fumbles to retrieve a flashlight, and cautiously makes her way upstairs to calm a crying Irene. Awake and sitting up in bed, Irene tells Regan that she’s in fear of the sounds in her room. Regan tries assuring her that the thunder is just the “angels bowling up in heaven.” Regan tries to get Irene back to sleep but Irene wants her to search the room. When odd occurrences happen and a malevolent force enters the room, it now becomes a terrifying race to escape the cursed house.

The Tour—PG-13
Horror—UK
Director: Damon Rickard & Alex Mathieson
This is the story of Darkmoor Manor, a house with a history so steeped in death it has gained the reputation of the most haunted house in England. Closed to the public and now part of a local tour, the tour guide offers to give two American backpackers a personal viewing, a side of England not available in a guide book. Desperate to get closer to the dark secrets buried with its victims, they accept, but do not expect the full horrors that await them inside Darkmoor Manor. Sometimes secrets are best left buried.

The British Film Institute and Film4 present this film noir thriller with a touch of romance, set in a ‘steam punked’ 1940s London. A spy chooses to betray her mission and save her lover, but once he knows the truth about their deception, can he ever forgive her, let alone love her?

Curio Shop: A Post Apocalyptic Acid Western—PG-13
SF&F—USA
Director: Eric S. Anderson
Everything and everyone in this world is broken….Even time. What starts as a rather whimsical and Mad Hatter-esque story about a watch maker who has no concept of time, slowly grows darker and more disturbing with each scene, descending through the looking glass to a place where characters transform and harden.
Oliver and John are two lonely survivors in a decayed frontier, drawn inexorably together by a web of shattering family secrets. When the watchmaker fashions a bizarre weapon for John, it opens a surrealistic Pandora’s Box, engulfing everyone in a fever dream with no clear exit.

Looking at Star Trek from the Very Beginning
Star Trek is so embedded in the culture, it’s easy to forget that there was almost no serious science fiction on TV in the mid-’60s. Both Twilight Zone and Outer Limits were off the air and Irwin Allen’s Lost in Space and Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea tended to be aimed at kids. So what were people expecting when Star Trek hit the airwaves? How long was it before “I Grok Spock” and “Live Long and Prosper” buttons started popping up? How did “latter day Trekkies” approach the series differently from original viewers?

Meet Your Maker—PG-13
S&F Feature—USA
Director: Justin Francart
A sci-fi short concerning a physicist whose experiments with a particle collider make him the unwitting arbiter of cosmic creation and destruction. Modeled after golden-age anthology television, Meet Your Maker is a retro vision of contemporary science, its myth-drunk detractors, and the collision of the rational mind with the ambiguous nature of the universe.

Of Dice and Men—PG-17 (Strong Language)
S&F Feature—USA
Director: Kelley Slagle
Few dungeon masters can make the game come to life better than John Francis. Dwarves, Mages and Barbarians jump right off of their character sheets whenever he sits down at the gaming table of frisky suburbanite parents, Linda and Brandon. John Francis’ best friends, sailor-mouthed John Alex and thoughtful jock Jason, bring roguish swagger and knightly nobility to the game. And the object of John Francis’ affection, the feisty Tara, provides all the Half Elven Double Princess backstory they could ever need. But when Jason enlists to go to Iraq and with the relationship with Tara going nowhere, it may be time for John Francis to hang up his twenty sided dice and take a job on the other side of the country. However, John Francis is about to discover that leaving will prove tougher than the Tomb of Horrors.

What Every Fan Should Know About Fandom
When is a science-fiction lover not an sf fan? The word "fandom" pre-dates science-fiction fandom; its use as a term of art for our community often generates confusion about who and what “fandom” encompasses. Panelists discuss highlights of the fandom that birthed Worldcon in the 1930s, how we got from then to Sasquan, and the most important characteristics and traditions of fen.

Witches, Werewolves, Seamstresses and Soldiers—The Women of Discworld

Uppity Women Unite—The women of the Discworld are immensely fascinating, unusually talented and wonderfully complex. Terry Pratchett was a brilliant humanist who liked women-as-people, and the characters he created—good, evil, and on a bad day very close to cackling—have intrigued us throughout the emergence of this series. Over the years, fans have come to love these women with their humor, their flaws, and their hard won knowledge about the uses of power. Join us for a discussion on the (almost) infinite variety of these magnificent characters.

Regency Dance
Join dance master John Hertz for an afternoon of gracious Regency dancing. We’ve been doing this at WorldCons since the 1970s. If you don’t know how, John will teach you. Historical costume of about the year 1800 is welcome, but not required. People come in all kinds of costumes. Or come as you are. Historical Background: In the English Regency period Napoleon ruled Europe, and one of the all-time great wise-guys “Beau” Brummell ruled England – more or less. Right away you see the English had good priorities. By 1811 there was a Prince Regent. He kept a full set of Jane Austen novels at his bedside. He must have had a sense of humor. We fans delight in Georgette Heyer’s stories of Regency aristocrats. She knew history well and kept a light touch. Try Cotillion, whose hero isn’t the protagonist and isn’t even a woman — Fuzzy Pink Niven’s favorite. Everybody loves The Grand Sophy. Book dealer Marty Massoglia says Heyer is his best-selling author. Look for an explanation in the fanzine Mimosa.

Citizen in the Temple is a sci-fi film set on a desert wasteland planet where only a few cities remain and life hangs on by a thread. A man named Jennon Ril is among the scientists that work on ways to preserve life on the planet. Secretly, however, he is part of The Shepherd’s Way, an underground revolutionary movement dedicated to ending the tyranny of The Consortium. The Consortium is the mastermind behind everything that happens in the city. It is an oppressive regime with eyes and ears everywhere.

Demigods, Chosen Ones & Rightful Heirs: Can Progress, Merit & Citizens Ever Matter in Fantasy?
Science fiction often centers around meritocracies (or at least “knowledgetocracies”) but fantasy? Not so much. Or, as Dennis famously said in Monty Python and the Holy Grail: “…Strange women lyin’ in ponds distributin’ swords is no basis for a system of government. Supreme executive power derives from a man-date from the masses, not from some farcical aquatic ceremony.” Has fantasy ever overcome this classic trope? Can it?

Super Science Saturday: Observing the Extreme Physics Near Black Hole Horizons
Astronomers have good reasons to hope for detailed observations of the vicinity of black hole event horizons. Gravitational waves record the collisions of black holes with other compact objects (black hole-black hole and black hole-neutron star collisions) while Very Long Baseline Interferometry promises to actually image a horizon. I will describe some of the features of near-black hole physics that astronomers are looking for. We’ll see that rather basic laws of physics can have surprising results for the matter caught by these monsters, such as the “nuclear donuts” that form when a black hole rips apart a nearby orbiting neutron star. A lot of our ideas depend on trusting computer simulations, but hopefully not for much longer!

Saturday 8:30pm 14min

Anger Of The Dead—PG-13
Horror—Italy
Director: Francesco Picone
Alice and Nicholas survived an epidemic that ravaged the world, now only inhabited by the undead. But the nightmare is not over; the rumbling of a motorcycle approaches, breaking the silence. Maybe it’s another survivor that will bring them to safety, or perhaps it is the most dangerous predator from which they have no chance of escaping?

Saturday 8:45pm 12min

Dystopia St.—PG-13
SF&F—UK
Director: David Cave
Lost in a world where logic is forgotten and nightmare is the central force around which everything revolves, a man must confront his darkest fears if he is to unravel the mystery of his plight and find the key to his escape. In order to do this, the man must tread a path of madness and uncertainty, always finding himself one step behind the strange fellow who haunts his dreams. Can the man outwit his tormentor and solve the puzzle of his dystopian dilemma, or will he be forever lost in this hellish nightmare world?

A pair of home invaders considers their potential character choices just prior to their planned invasion.

Saturday 9:40pm 9min

Timothy—PG-13
Horror—Spain
Director: Marc Martínez Jordan
Simon is a little boy that has to deal with his babysitter, Sonia, a total nuisance. But that same night, Simon will recieve an unexpected visitor, Timothy, the main character of Simon’s favourite show, a visit he will never forget.
Years of drought, flood, and fluctuating environmental conditions have taken their toll on a small country town. When a local ranger finds an unidentified algae multiplying in the water supply, he knows that something’s not right—but it’s not till the sun goes down that he realizes the true extent of the danger.

Undead dark riders invade a wild west saloon, blasting away everyone in sight—now only a bad-ass Native American warrior can save the town. A steampunk, supernatural, wild west, epic action-thriller with killer special effects. A thrill ride from music mastermind Savant and director/vfx artist Mike Diva.

A father and son travel deep into the woods to make an offering to a mysterious force. When they realize a key element is missing, they must improvise before time runs out.

Even just thinking about a crime is enough to make you guilty – and justice is dispensed from the barrel of a gun. Enforcers take out the bad guys, and Inspectors make sure their partners don’t cross the fine line between good and evil.

Calling all dancers, past, present, and future, from the farthest reaches of the multiverse! Wherever—and whenever—you may hail from, join us for the ultimate convention of social dancers across time and space. A wide array of music will be played for your social dancing pleasure, and dance masters Nick Enge and Melissa Carvell from the Library of Dance will call a variety of easy mixers. Authentic attire from your time and place of origin will be admired. Proof of interstellar or interchronic origin will also be admired, where applicable.

WSFS Business Meeting
Joining Sasquan made you a member of the World Science Fiction Society, the organization that has sponsored Worldcon since 1939. WSFS holds its business meeting annually at Worldcon, making the rules that govern Worldcons and the Hugo Awards. Every attending member of Sasquan is welcome to attend the meeting, participate in debates, and vote. Any business not completed at any earlier meeting (including any matters postponed or specifically scheduled for today) must be concluded by the end of this meeting. The WSFS Mark Protection Committee will hold an organizational meeting to elect officers approximately 20 minutes after the conclusion of today’s Business Meeting. If the prior WSFS meetings this weekend concluded all business by the end of yesterday’s meeting, there will be no WSFS Meeting today; check the convention newsletter and the mobile app for schedule updates.

Oh, the Horror! Scaring Teens
Teens flock to slasher flicks, but what about slasher lit? Horror isn’t just violence and gore. Achieving true horror is an art, but what does it take to hit that scary sweet spot? And how close to the line can you get when writing for teens without stepping over into adult fiction? Young readers love to be scared just like adults, but why? Join our horror specialists in delving into the literary depths where even angels fear to tread. You might even find out where the boogie man hangs out when he isn’t hiding under your bed.

The Pilot Fish’s Tale—PG
SF&F—USA
Director: Rose Fadem-Johnston
The Pilot Fish’s Tale follows the journey of a tenacious young goldfish named Lock on her quest to become a dragon. Though she sets out to become a flying, fire-breathing creature, Lock finds herself trapped below the sky and above the water; with everyone she encounters foolishly mistaking her for a maiden. As is often the rule with maidens in fairy tales, she is promptly swept off to a castle. Despite being doubted and ridiculed at every step, she is at last rewarded for her perseverance and becomes a powerful, wise and content...fish.
The fairy-tale is a licensed adaption of a single chapter from the novel The Orphan’s Tales: In the Night Garden, written by Catherynne M. Valente. It is a mixture of live action, puppetry and stop-motion animation.

Shadows—PG-13
SF&F—UK
Director: Luke Armstrong
Based on recent news events and set in the year 2037, ‘Shadows’ is a contemporary Orwellian style vision of the future. The short sci-fi film depicts how the UK government will use virtually all digital technology for surveillance and control over the general population, ultimately becoming a totalitarian state. We join our lead characters—Lee and Jess, on the brink of a revolution.

Flight From Shadow—PG-13
Fan Film—USA
Director: David A. Skousen
The WHEEL OF TIME fan movie “Flight From Shadow” chronicles the events in the “Four Kings in Shadow” chapter from The Eye of the World, the first book of Robert Jordan's bestselling series.

SpoCon Presents: The Great Debate
Author L. E. Modesitt will moderate this Great Debate between a cast of colorful characters; and you, the audience, will determine which of our candidates will reign supreme. You can be assured that every vote will count in this hilarious battle of circumscription and doublespeak, so join us as our candidates dazzle you with their political impotence and stupefy you with feats of circular logic. You will laugh. You will cry. You will sit and stare in bewilderment. And, in the end, you will decide.

The Past Is Another World: Historical Fiction for SF Fans
One attraction of SF is its glimpses of alien worlds and cultures. Our past can be a similar alien culture. What historical works do a good job of capturing the past and conveying the unfamiliar amidst the familiar.
Madeleine Robins (m), Tananarive Due, Walter H. Hunt, Eric Swedin, Patrick Nielsen Hayden

Young Adults in Adult Fiction
How are young adults portrayed in adult fiction? Is writing a young adult character in adult fiction different than writing a young adult character for YA fiction? Do young adult characters in adult fiction attract young adult readers to adult fiction, and is that good thing? Do authors have to abide by the same expectations as YA authors when writing younger characters?

Fanwriting from Twiltone to Facebook: Zines, Blogs, Social Media—What’s the Diff?
From fandom’s earliest days, fen have written to one other. We write about our favorite sf, chronicle the cons we go to, gossip about clubs and the fans we know and detail what’s happening in our lives. Fanwriting began with letters to prozines and then evolved into styles suitable for fanzines and apas. Now, we have blogs and social media. Is there any real difference in the fanwriting? Does one medium require more discipline or skill? Is one more revealing or more relevant? Which generates the most egoboo (positive feedback)?
